

MoviePhile Readme and Instructions

When you launch MoviePhile, you'll see a very simple start page with 2 links that say "Add To Your Library" or "Create Your Movie Library".

To create your library, click on the "Create Your Movie Library" link. You will then see a profile page for your movie collection. Give that collection a name (you could have several collections... one very every member of the family) and then click on the plus symbol to start adding movies.

If you want to add to an already existing library, just click "Add To Your Library" and you'll go to a page that has all of your libraries listed. Just select the one you want to add to, click the plus button, and add more movies to your app.

The location field is what inspired me to write this app. I have lots of movies that are stored in different locations. I hate looking through all of the DVD storage binders and looking on all of the shelves that we have! If I label my binders and note on which shelf to look, then I won't have to spend so much time looking for that movie I've been thinking about watching all day. Just get your collection organized the way you want it or keep it the way it is now, add all of the info for that movie, and when you go to put it away, you just need to look it up in your app, and look for the location to know where to put it back. Also, if you loan a movie to a friend or family member, just edit the location field with that person's name, and you'll always know who borrowed your movie so you can get it back from the right person.

Have fun using this app and I hope it helps you to take further advantage and enjoyment out of your already existing movie library!
